

PARTISAN PULPITS

Is Your Freedom of Religious Choice Under Attack?

The trend is undeniable — religious organizations are taking positions on political issues, becoming allied to political parties, and endorsing specific candidates. Religious fundamentalists are mobilizing to subvert and overturn tax laws that preserve the principles of separation of church and state.

Sunday, October 15, 2006, 2–4 p.m.

Congregation Beth Adam

10001 Loveland-Madeira Road, Loveland, Ohio

Guest Speakers:

Reverend Cedric Harmon, spokesperson for Americans United for Separation of Church and State

Marcus Owens, expert on tax laws and charitable organizations. Lead attorney on current, nationally-significant cases in Ohio and California on church political activities

Discussion Topics Include:

- Overarching Policy Issues Regarding Partisan Pulpits
- Current Controversial Cases in Ohio
- Do's and Don'ts Regarding What is Allowable Under Tax Law
- Question & Answer Session

Presented by Congregation Beth Adam. Co-sponsored by Americans United for Separation of Church and State, Cincinnati Institute on Religion in Civic Life, Equality Cincinnati, First Unitarian Church, and Interfaith Alliance of Greater Cincinnati.

For additional information, call 513-985-0400,
or e-mail admin@bethadam.org

BETH ADAM

JUDAISM WITH A HUMANISTIC PERSPECTIVE